OUR MISSION

Emmanuel Catholic Church which means, God is with us, is a faithful community of believers dedicated to proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ as taught by the Roman Catholic Church through word, sacrament, and service. As one parish family of God, we live by faith, truth, and love as we value the sanctity of life in all its stages and make the Holy Eucharist the center of our lives. Through the guidance of the Holy Spirit, the consultation with our parish ministries, we desire to be witnesses of God's presence as we share our gifts of time, talent, and treasure with God's Family.

TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

04 EMMANUEL CATHOLIC CHURCH

SEPTEMBER 4, 2022

WIS 9: 13-18B | PS 90: 3-6, 12-17 | PHMN 9-10, 12-17 | LK 14: 25-33

Honesty and truthfulness are badly needed in our times. These are the virtues extolled by our heroes. It is said that popularity, flatteries and sweet promises are the order of the day at the expense of other people.

It is about time we focus on Christ who, as an honest leader, spoke truth when he declared: "Anyone who does not take up his cross cannot be my disciple" (Lk 14: 26-27).

Jesus never induced us to follow him by offering an easy way. He did not offer us comforts; he offered glory. He did not offer a life bereft of difficulties and struggles, but a life of challenge. He did not offer a convenient way to salvation, but a glory through the sacrifice of the cross.

We only have to see the crucifix hanging at the center of our altar to remind ourselves that Christ is offering the religion of the cross. He is in effect telling us in our Gospel today: "Let him who loves me in his heart more than on his lips and more than anyone and anything else, follow me in the way of the cross!"

Christ in our Gospel invites us to examine carefully the price we have to pay if we follow him, just as a man would do if he intends to build a tower. But just as it is not possible to build the whole tower at once, Christ does not tell us to carry all our crosses all at the same time. In the Lord's Prayer, the Our Father, he taught us to pray, "Give us today our daily bread." Similarly, he said: "If you want to be a follower of mine, deny yourself, and take up your cross each day, and follow me" (Lk. 9:23). This means we carry our cross one day at a time as we pray for our supply of bread and strength from him each day.

Our burdens and crosses can be compared to a large bundle of wood, too heavy for us to carry. But God does not require us to carry the whole bundle at once. What he does is to untie the bundle and give us first one stick, which we carry today, and then another, which we carry tomorrow, and so on. In this way we can easily manage if we only take the burden appointed for us each day.

The problem, however, is we have the habit of increasing our burden by carrying the stick we carried yesterday, and add it to our burden today, including tomorrow's burden even if we are not asked yet to carry it today. This is why sometimes we complain to God that he is giving us a cross beyond our capacity to bear. God cannot be unfair to us. God does not try us beyond our strength.

Christ said: "Do not worry about tomorrow for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own"(Mt.6:34).

Do not be afraid. Do not be discouraged. As we pray each day, we grow in our trust in God every day. As we carry our cross each day, we grow in our total commitment to Christ every day. Let it be accordingly, every day.

PRAYER BEFORE COMMUNION

O Lord, I believe and profess that you are truly Christ, Son of the living God, who came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the first. Accept me this day as a partaker of your mystical supper O Son of God. May the partaking of your holy mysteries, O Lord, be not for judgement or condemnation, but for the healing of body and soul. I also believe and profess that this, which I am about to receive, is truly your most precious Body & Blood, which, I pray, make me worthy to receive for the remission of all my sins and life everlasting. Amen.

PROTECTION AGAINST HURRICANES

God our Father, Creator of the Universe and Lord over all creation, we humbly stand before you as your children in thanksgiving for your loving care and protection. We ask that you keep us safe from all hurricanes and illnesses which may threaten us in the coming seasons. Protect us from all fear and anxiety and give us an ardent trust and hope in Your love and mercy. You alone bring peace, calm, and safety. Father, we thank you in advance, for you are our only refuge. We ask this through Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, God forever and ever.

Amen.

Mary Queen of the Apostles, and Patroness of our Diocese, Pray for us.

PRAYER FOR THE PAVILION PROJECT

Loving Father, creator of all things, we come to you asking your blessing on the construction of our pavilion. We pray for all involved in this project from donors to those who will bring it to completion. We dedicate this endeavor through the intercession of St. Joseph the worker. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen

PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS

Lord Jesus, as You once called the first disciples to make them fishers of men, let your sweet invitation continue to resound: Come follow Me! Give young men and women the grace of responding quickly to your voice. Support our bishops, priests and consecrated people in their apostolic labor. Grant perseverance to our seminarians and to all those who are carrying out the ideal of a life totally consecrated to your service. Awaken in our community a missionary eagerness. Lord, send your workers to your harvest and do not allow humanity to be lost for the lack of pastors, missionaries and people dedicated to the cause of the Gospel. Mary, Mother of the Church, the model of every vocation, help us to say "yes" to the Lord who calls us to cooperate in the divine plan of salvation. Amen.

BLESSED FREDERIC OZANAM

FEAST DAY: SPETEMBER 7

A man convinced of the inestimable worth of each human being, Frédéric served the poor of Paris well, and drew others into serving the poor of the world. Through the Saint Vincent de Paul Society, which he founded, his work continues to the present day.

Frédéric was the fifth of Jean and Marie Ozanam's 14 children, one of only three to reach adulthood. As a teenager he began having doubts about his religion. Reading and prayer did not seem to help, but long walking discussions with Father Noirot of the Lyons College clarified matters a great deal.

Frédéric wanted to study literature, although his father, a doctor, wanted him to become a lawyer. Frédéric yielded to his father's wishes and in 1831, arrived in Paris to study law at the University of the Sorbonne. When certain professors there mocked Catholic teachings in their lectures, Frédéric defended the Church.

A discussion club which Frédéric organized sparked the turning point in his life. In this club, Catholics, atheists, and agnostics debated the issues of the day. Once, after Frédéric spoke about Christianity's role in civilization, a club member said: "Let us be frank, Mr. Ozanam; let us also be very particular. What do you do besides talk to prove the faith you claim is in you?"

Frédéric was stung by the question. He soon decided that his words needed a grounding in action. He and a friend began visiting Paris tenements and offering assistance as best they could. Soon a group dedicated to helping individuals in need under the patronage of Saint Vincent de Paul formed around Frédéric.

Feeling that the Catholic faith needed an excellent speaker to explain its teachings, Frédéric convinced the Archbishop of Paris to appoint Dominican Father Jean-Baptiste Lacordaire, the greatest preacher then in France, to preach a Lenten series in Notre Dame Cathedral. It was well-attended and became an annual tradition in Paris.

After Frédéric earned his law degree at the Sorbonne, he taught law at the University of Lyons. He also earned a doctorate in literature. Soon after marrying Amelie Soulacroix on June 23, 1841, he returned to the Sorbonne to teach literature. A well-respected lecturer, Frédéric worked to bring out the best in each student. Meanwhile, the Saint Vincent de Paul Society was growing throughout Europe. Paris alone counted 25 conferences.

In 1846, Frédéric, Amelie, and their daughter Marie went to Italy; there he hoped to restore his poor health. They returned the next year. The revolution of 1848 left many Parisians in need of the services of the Saint Vincent de Paul conferences. The unemployed numbered 275,000. The government asked Frédéric and his coworkers to supervise the government aid to the poor. Vincentians throughout Europe came to the aid of Paris.

Frédéric then started a newspaper, The New Era, dedicated to securing justice for the poor and the working classes. Fellow Catholics were often unhappy with what Frédéric wrote. Referring to the poor man as "the nation's priest," Frédéric said that the hunger and sweat of the poor formed a sacrifice that could redeem the people's humanity.

In 1852, poor health again forced Frédéric to return to Italy with his wife and daughter. He died on September 8, 1853. In his sermon at Frédéric's funeral, Fr.

Lacordaire described his friend as "one of those privileged creatures who came direct from the hand of God in whom God joins tenderness to genius in order to enkindle the world."

Frédéric was beatified in 1997. Since Frédéric wrote an excellent book entitled Franciscan Poets of the Thirteenth Century, and since his sense of the dignity of each poor person was so close to the thinking of Saint Francis, it seemed appropriate to include him among Franciscan "greats." His liturgical feast is celebrated on September 9.

Reflection

Frédéric Ozanam always respected the poor while offering whatever service he could. Each man, woman, and child was too precious to live in poverty. Serving the poor taught Frédéric something about God that he could not have learned elsewhere.

There are many dioceses around the world who will apply for the mission appeal in the USA to help with their pastoral programs and needs. The second collection of that weekend will go to their needs. If you write a check, please make it out to Emmanuel Catholic Church and in the memo put Mission Appeal.

Fr. Ding Panesa the representative of the diocese of Legaspi will speak at all the masses. Once again, thank you so much for all your support to the Universal Church especially for those who are in need,
