Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

July 25th, 2021

2 Kgs 4: 42-44 / Ps 145: 10-11, 15-18 / Eph 4: 1-6 / Jn 6: 1-15

Today and for the next four Sundays, the Gospel is taken from the Bread of Life discourse in the sixth chapter of John. The mystery of the Bread of Life will be developed.

It all starts with the one miracle described in all four gospels: the multiplication of the loaves. The scene is the far shore of Lake Galilee; the time is spring, the feast of the Passover of the Jews.

Jesus takes five barley loaves, He then gives thanks (eucharisteo), distributes them, and then does the same with the fish. The Eucharistic allusions here are obvious. We hear that the people were so impressed that they wanted to make Jesus king. Jesus saw right through that. They wanted somebody who would take care of them, not just by providing them with free meals, but someone who would give them back their own nation, their own government. The Jews were tired of Roman oppression and they figured Jesus could get enough of a following to revolt. Wanting to have a free lunch or even their own independence wasn't all bad, but Jesus was at a different place than they were at. His intentions were much more wonderful than the people could ever imagine. Jesus came to feed his people with spiritual food, food that would sustain them not for a day or even for a lifetime, but for eternity. He wanted to set them free, not so much from the Romans, but from every other power that seeks to oppress and destroy us: death, sickness, hatred, prejudice, injustice. They were hungry for what they imagined they needed rather than being hungry for what God knew they needed.

The disciples are both faithful and lacking in faith. They accompany Jesus across the lake and sit down with him on the mountain. They are directed by Jesus to collect the fragments that are left over after the crowd has eaten their fill despite incredulity at first. As the events unfold, Philip and Andrew never realize that Jesus' words have a deeper meaning, far more profound than they have expected.

What preliminary meanings can be extracted from the initial verses of John's account? Here, we realize that God truly provides. God intervenes not only when we are helpless. God's providence operates in our lives at all times. Furthermore, the twelve baskets left over proclaim that God gives extravagantly. God gives more than we need. God has even created for us the planet earth that is prodigal in its generosity.

The Eucharist is the way Christ chose to continue feeding his people with a miraculous food, his own flesh and blood. We will hear him say in three weeks: "Unless you eat the flesh of the son of man and drink his blood you do not have to life in you." We gather here today in faith in obedience to his words at the Last Supper.: "Take this and eat...take this and drink...do this in memory of me." May we experience his presence with us now as he feeds us in a miraculous way with his own body and blood. Amen.

Prayer Before Communion

O Lord, I believe and profess that you are truly Christ, Son of the living God, who came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the first. Accept me this day as a partaker of your mystical supper O Son of God. May the partaking of your holy mysteries, O Lord, be not for judgement or condemnation, but for the healing of body and soul. I also believe and profess that this, which I am about to receive, is truly your most precious Body & Blood, which, I pray, make me worthy to receive for the remission of all my sins and life everlasting. Amen.

Prayer For The Pavilion Project

Loving Father, creator of all things, we come to you asking your blessing on the construction of our pavilion. We pray for all involved in this project from donors to those who will bring it to completion. We dedicate this endeavor through the intercession of St. Joseph the worker. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen

Prayer for Protection from Storms

God our Father, Creator of the Universe and Lord over all creation, we humbly stand before you as your children in thanksgiving for your loving care and protection. We ask that you keep us safe from all our hurricanes which may threaten us in the coming seasons. Protect us from all fear and anxiety of storms and give us an ardent trust and hope in Your love and mercy. You alone have the power to command the sea, and the wind and the rain. You alone bring peace, calm, and safety. Father, we thank you in advance, for you are our only Refuge. We ask this through Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

Mary, Queen of the Apostles, and Patroness of our Diocese, pray for us.

Saint of the Week

Saint Ignatius' Story

The founder of the Jesuits was on his way to military fame and fortune when a cannon ball shattered his leg. Because there were no books of romance on hand during his convalescence, Ignatius whiled away the time reading a life of Christ and lives of the saints. His conscience was deeply touched, and a long, painful turning to Christ began. Having seen the Mother of God in a vision, he made a pilgrimage to her shrine at Montserrat near Barcelona. He remained for almost a year at nearby Manresa, sometimes with the Dominicans, sometimes in a pauper's hospice, often in a cave in the hills praying. After a period of great peace of mind, he went through a harrowing trial of scruples. There was no comfort in anything—prayer, fasting, sacraments, penance. At length, his peace of mind returned.

It was during this year of conversion that Ignatius began to write down material that later became his greatest work, the Spiritual Exercises.

He finally achieved his purpose of going to the Holy Land, but could not remain, as he planned, because of the hostility of the Turks. Ignatius spent the next 11 years in various European universities, studying with great difficulty, beginning almost as a child. Like many others, his orthodoxy was questioned; Ignatius was twice jailed for brief periods.

In 1534, at the age of 43, he and six others—one of whom was Saint Francis Xavier—vowed to live in poverty and chastity and to go to the Holy Land. If this became impossible, they vowed to offer themselves to the apostolic service of the pope. The latter became the only choice. Four years later Ignatius made the association permanent. The new Society of Jesus was approved by Pope Paul III, and Ignatius was elected to serve as the first general.

When companions were sent on various missions by the pope, Ignatius remained in Rome, consolidating the new venture, but still finding time to found homes for orphans, catechumens, and penitents. He founded the Roman College, intended to be the model of all other colleges of the Society.

Ignatius was a true mystic. He centered his spiritual life on the essential foundations of Christianity—the Trinity, Christ, the Eucharist. His spirituality is expressed in the Jesuit motto, Ad maiorem Dei gloriam—"for the greater glory of God." In his concept, obedience was to be the prominent virtue, to assure the effectiveness and mobility of his men. All activity was to be guided by a true love of the Church and unconditional obedience to the Holy Father, for which reason all professed members took a fourth vow to go wherever the pope should send them for the salvation of souls.

Reflection

Luther nailed his theses to the church door at Wittenberg in 1517. Seventeen years later, Ignatius of Loyola founded the Society that was to play so prominent a part in the Catholic Reformation. He was an implacable foe of Protestantism. Yet the seeds of ecumenism may be found in his words: "Great care must be taken to show forth orthodox truth in such a way that if any heretics happen to be present they may have an example of charity and Christian moderation. No hard words should be used nor any sort of contempt for their errors be shown." One of the greatest ecumenists was the 20th-century German Jesuit, Cardinal Augustin Bea.
