Parish Mission Statement

Emmanuel Catholic Church which means, God is with us, is a faithful community of believers dedicated to proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ as taught by the Roman Catholic Church through word, sacrament, and service. As one parish family of God, we live by faith, truth, and love as we value the sanctity of life in all its stages and make the Holy Eucharist the center of our lives. Through the guidance of the Holy Spirit, the consultation with our parish ministries, we desire to be witnesses of God's presence as we share our gifts of time, talent, and treasure with God's Family.

Twenty-eight Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

Oct 10th, 2021

Wis 7:7-11 / Ps 90:12-17 / Heb 4:12-13 / Mk 10:17-30 [17-27]

Tithing was a strict part of the Jewish law. It's taken for granted that the man in today's gospel was tithing faithfully, as well as conscientiously keeping all the other Jewish laws too, but he wanted to do more. Jesus offered him the opportunity to give up everything he had for the sake of the Kingdom of God. This was an invitation that was not offered to everyone. Jesus had good friends who supported him, who must have been pretty well off to be able to do so, and he did not ask them to give up everything. The young man could not accept the invitation. It required too much of him. He wanted to do more but not that much more. What Jesus was asking wasn't impossible. Jesus himself lived a life of total poverty and his twelve apostles gave up everything in order to follow him. Though Judas, as we know, later cheated on his commitment and did not live up to it.

As we hear today's gospel, there's a temptation to think it's all about money. It is and it isn't. Money is a symbol of our lives, it represents our sweat and labor. It represents foods on our table and a roof over heads. It represents fun times. When we give money to the Church, when we give money to the poor or the missions, we are giving away part of ourselves to help someone or for some other noble purpose. It's more than just helping out where needed, it's giving back to our Lord in gratitude, in sacrifice, in humble acknowledgment of where all our blessings come from, something of ourselves. It's an innate desire built into all of us to give something of ourselves to our Creator for all that he has given to us. We call that sacrifice, and people have been doing it since human beings began to walk the face of the earth.

At the same time, the gospel is about other things than money. It's about anything that might get in the way of our giving ourselves totally to Christ. Think of all the wonderful things we have. Are they helping us on our way to God or are they getting the way? Our ultimate purpose in life, yes, our eternal happiness, is to be with God. Are all of the things we treasure leading us there? Do we take time to thank God for them? Gratitude may lead us to be generous with our charity, but it should also lead us to be generous with our time. How much time do we make for God? Think, for example, of Sunday Mass or daily prayer. For too many people, taking time for God takes last place in their lives because they're too busy. When we're too busy for God, we really are too busy. A lot of the time, though, we're not too busy; we just don't want to put out the effort to give God some of our time. If we were to ask "what more do I need to do," Our Lord could ask us to give up some bad habit, or to let go of some grudge we keep holding onto. Maybe that's why we seldom come to him with that kind of question.

Today's first reading tells us about a person who sought wisdom before anything else. In attaining wisdom, the author of this piece from the Book of Wisdom said he acquired all things besides. St. Paul tells us Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God. (1 Cor. 1, 24) As Jesus answered Peter in gospel, no one who has given up everything to follow Christ will lose their reward. Indeed, they will be rewarded 100 times over. That is a fantastic return and it has been guaranteed by one who will not fail us. But he warns us that when we follow him, when we give ourselves over to him to the extent that he asks us to, life will not always go easy. One part of this process that is not always easy is simply trusting and waiting. We like immediate results but God doesn't always give them. We have to trust in God's wisdom and rely on God's timetable, but if we do, we will surely find out God will not fail us and he is not going to let us outdo him in generosity.

Parishioner Registration Forms

Registering as an Official Parishioner of Emmanuel is very important to us and you! Attending Mass on a regular basis does not technically mean you are registered. You must fill out a form, which will be entered into our records. Please pick up a form at the back of the church and return it to the parish office. You may also call the office to verify if you are already registered or not. Thank you!

Prayer Before Communion

O Lord, I believe and profess that you are truly Christ, Son of the living God, who came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the first. Accept me this day as a partaker of your mystical supper O Son of God. May the partaking of your holy mysteries, O Lord, be not for judgement or condemnation, but for the healing of body and soul. I also believe and profess that this, which I am about to receive, is truly your most precious Body & Blood, which, I pray, make me worthy to receive for the remission of all my sins and life everlasting. Amen.

Prayer For The Pavilion Project

Loving Father, creator of all things, we come to you asking your blessing on the construction of our pavilion. We pray for all involved in this project from donors to those who will bring it to completion. We dedicate this endeavor through the intercession of St. Joseph the worker. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen

Prayer for Protection from Storms

God our Father, Creator of the Universe and Lord over all creation, we humbly stand before you as your children in thanksgiving for your loving care and protection. We ask that you keep us safe from all our hurricanes which may threaten us in the coming seasons. Protect us from all fear and anxiety of storms and give us an ardent trust and hope in Your love and mercy. You alone have the power to command the sea, and the wind and the rain. You alone bring peace, calm, and safety. Father, we thank you in advance, for you are our only Refuge.
We ask this through Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.
Mary, Queen of the Apostles, and Patroness of our Diocese, pray for us.

Saint of the Week

Saint John XXIII's Story

Although few people had as great an impact on the 20th century as Pope John XXIII, he avoided the limelight as much as possible. Indeed, one writer has noted that his “ordinariness” seems one of his most remarkable qualities.

The firstborn son of a farming family in Sotto il Monte, near Bergamo in northern Italy, Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was always proud of his down-to-earth roots. In Bergamo's diocesan seminary, he joined the Secular Franciscan Order.

After his ordination in 1904, Fr. Roncalli returned to Rome for canon law studies. He soon worked as his bishop's secretary, Church history teacher in the seminary, and as publisher of the diocesan paper.

His service as a stretcher-bearer for the Italian army during World War I gave him a firsthand knowledge of war. In 1921, Fr. Roncalli was made national director in Italy of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. He also found time to teach patristics at a seminary in the Eternal City.

In 1925, he became a papal diplomat, serving first in Bulgaria, then in Turkey, and finally in France. During World War II, he became well acquainted with Orthodox Church leaders. With the help of Germany's ambassador to Turkey, Archbishop Roncalli helped save an estimated 24,000 Jewish people.

Named a cardinal and appointed patriarch of Venice in 1953, he was finally a residential bishop. A month short of entering his 78th year, Cardinal Roncalli was elected pope, taking the name John after his father and the two patrons of Rome's cathedral, St. John Lateran. Pope John took his work very seriously but not himself. His wit soon became proverbial, and he began meeting with political and religious leaders from around the world. In 1962, he was deeply involved in efforts to resolve the Cuban missile crisis.

His most famous encyclicals were Mother and Teacher (1961) and Peace on Earth (1963). Pope John XXIII enlarged the membership in the College of Cardinals and made it more international. At his address at the opening of the Second Vatican Council, he criticized the “prophets of doom” who “in these modern times see nothing but prevarication and ruin.” Pope John XXIII set a tone for the Council when he said, “The Church has always opposed... errors. Nowadays, however, the Spouse of Christ prefers to make use of the medicine of mercy rather than that of severity.”

On his deathbed, Pope John said: “It is not that the gospel has changed; it is that we have begun to understand it better. Those who have lived as long as I have...were enabled to compare different cultures and traditions, and know that the moment has come to discern the signs of the times, to seize the opportunity and to look far ahead.”

“Good Pope John” died on June 3, 1963. St. John Paul II beatified him in 2000, and Pope Francis canonized him in 2014.

Reflection

Throughout his life, Angelo Roncalli cooperated with God's grace, believing that the job at hand was worthy of his best efforts. His sense of God's providence made him the ideal person to promote a new dialogue with Protestant and Orthodox Christians, as well as with Jews and Muslims. In the sometimes noisy crypt of St. Peter's Basilica, many people become silent on seeing the simple tomb of Pope John XXIII, grateful for the gift of his life and holiness. After his beatification, his tomb was moved into the basilica itself.
