Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

October 31th, 2021

DT 6: 2-6 / PS 18: 2-4, 47, 51 / Heb 7: 23-28 / Mk 12: 28b-34

The rabbis and Jewish religious leaders at the time of Jesus would often discuss which of their 613 laws was the most important. They asked Jesus' opinion and as usual Jesus got right to heart of the matter. Jesus was not saying the others do not count or are unimportant. He was saying that love is the spirit behind all of them. If we follow the command of love, we will keep the others, if we keep the others without love we are legalists or as Paul says in his famous 13th Chapter of 1 Corinthians "If I have not love, I am nothing." Jesus was asked for one commandment, but he gave us two, to show that the two are inseparable. Part of the problems people have in today's world is that they have forgotten the first part of this commandment. That's why they have problems with the second. It's interesting too to notice the word "commandment." It reminds us that we don't always feel love for God or for others, but we are obliged to do it anyway if we are going to fulfill our highest potential as a human being and if we are going to please God.

The biggest misconception about love in today's world is to equate it with feelings. Too many people think love means having nice warm, friendly feelings toward someone. Well, it is and it isn't. Love is an emotion, but the kind of love Jesus is talking about is much more. Warm feelings don't always feed the hungry or help a person in need. Love is not primarily something vague, fuzzy and warm. Love is a matter of what one does rather than what one feels.

Love has some difficult elements to it such as sacrifice and unselfishness. You know, when we are born, we are pretty self-centered creatures. We know when we're hungry, when we're in pain, when we're tired and we don't mind letting the whole world know about it. That's OK for a baby. But we're supposed to grow out that stage and realize we're not the center of the universe. When we grow in love we are learning to reach out to others and this is a sign of maturity.

A word about love for God. Feelings enter in here too and when they're not present people become confused. When they don't get good feelings from prayer or Mass they often feel they are losing their faith or God has abandoned them or they just quit trying. Sometimes our love for God is not measured by how we feel. Basically, love for God is a matter of giving God our trust, our time, and our obedience. Jesus gave us a reliable measure of our love for God when he told us: "If you love me you will keep my commandments."

St. Thomas of Aquinas once said that love is friendship with God. This is true. God loves us as if we were His best friend. And He wants us to relate to Him as if He were our best friend. How do we relate to our best friend? We love to communicate with him or with her. We share our success, but we also share our problems and our worries. We trust in him or her because we know that our friend loves us.

Let us pray for the strength to love God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our mind, and with all our strength.

Parishioner Registration Forms

Registering as an Official Parishioner of Emmanuel is very important to us and you! Attending Mass on a regular basis does not technically mean you are registered. You must fill out a form, which will be entered into our records. Please pick up a form at the back of the church and return it to the parish office. You may also call the office to verify if you are already registered or not. Thank you!

Prayer Before Communion

O Lord, I believe and profess that you are truly Christ, Son of the living God, who came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the first. Accept me this day as a partaker of your mystical supper O Son of God. May the partaking of your holy mysteries, O Lord, be not for judgement or condemnation, but for the healing of body and soul. I also believe and profess that this, which I am about to receive, is truly your most precious Body & Blood, which, I pray, make me worthy to receive for the remission of all my sins and life everlasting. Amen.

Prayer For The Pavilion Project

Loving Father, creator of all things, we come to you asking your blessing on the construction of our pavilion. We pray for all involved in this project from donors to those who will bring it to completion. We dedicate this endeavor through the intercession of St. Joseph the worker. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen

Prayer for Protection from Storms

God our Father, Creator of the Universe and Lord over all creation, we humbly stand before you as your children in thanksgiving for your loving care and protection. We ask that you keep us safe from all our hurricanes which may threaten us in the coming seasons. Protect us from all fear and anxiety of storms and give us an ardent trust and hope in Your love and mercy. You alone have the power to command the sea, and the wind and the rain. You alone bring peace, calm, and safety. Father, we thank you in advance, for you are our only Refuge.

We ask this through Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

Message from Deacon Tony

I felt drawn to the diaconate soon after Vatican II when Pope Paul VI restored the order. I wanted to help people recognize the call of the Council to take their vocation of the laity seriously and become more active and empowered in the Church.

I was ordained Deacon on May 18, 1996 after seven years of study by Bishop John McGann for the Diocese of Rockville Centre and sent by him to Holy Name of Mary Parish in Valley Stream, where I served as deacon for 10 years.

My brother's illness and death caused me to relocate to Emmanuel Church in Delray Beach in 2005. Through Monsignor Fiore I was assigned here by Bishop Gerald Barbarito and have ministered with Fr. Timothy Sockol, Fr. Gaudioso Zamora, Fr. Theo Ihedoro along with Deacon Richard Santana.

I could not be happier than I am in ministering here with the parish family not only liturgically, but as Director of Adult Education, Chairperson of the Finance Council and as such I confer Baptisms, marriages, funerals, and I am being present to all who are hatched, matched, and dispatched.

Please join with me in a Mass of Thanksgiving on Sunday November 14, 2021 at 12:00 noon.

Saint of the Week

Saint Martin de Porres ' Story

“Father unknown” is the cold legal phrase sometimes used on baptismal records. “Half-breed” or “war souvenir” is the cruel name inflicted by those of “pure” blood. Like many others, Martin might have grown to be a bitter man, but he did not. It was said that even as a child he gave his heart and his goods to the poor and despised.

He was the son of a freed woman of Panama, probably black but also possibly of indigenous stock, and a Spanish grandee of Lima, Peru. His parents never married each other. Martin inherited the features and dark complexion of his mother. That irked his father, who finally acknowledged his son after eight years. After the birth of a sister, the father abandoned the family. Martin was reared in poverty, locked into a low level of Lima’s society.

When he was 12, his mother apprenticed him to a barber-surgeon. Martin learned how to cut hair and also how to draw blood—a standard medical treatment then—care for wounds, and prepare and administer medicines.

After a few years in this medical apostolate, Martin applied to the Dominicans to be a “lay helper,” not feeling himself worthy to be a religious brother. After nine years, the example of his prayer and penance, charity and humility, led the community to request him to make full religious profession. Many of his nights were spent in prayer and penitential practices; his days were filled with nursing the sick and caring for the poor. It was particularly impressive that he treated all people regardless of their color, race, or status. He was instrumental in founding an orphanage, took care of slaves brought from Africa, and managed the daily alms of the priory with practicality, as well as generosity. He became the procurator for both priory and city, whether it was a matter of “blankets, shirts, candles, candy, miracles or prayers!” When his priory was in debt, he said, “I am only a poor mulatto. Sell me. I am the property of the order. Sell me.”

Side by side with his daily work in the kitchen, laundry, and infirmary, Martin’s life reflected God’s extraordinary gifts: ecstasies that lifted him into the air, light filling the room where he prayed, bi-location, miraculous knowledge, instantaneous cures, and a remarkable rapport with animals. His charity extended to beasts of the field and even to the vermin of the kitchen. He would excuse the raids of mice and rats on the grounds that they were underfed; he kept stray cats and dogs at his sister’s house.

Martin became a formidable fundraiser, obtaining thousands of dollars for dowries for poor girls so that they could marry or enter a convent.

Many of his fellow religious took Martin as their spiritual director, but he continued to call himself a “poor slave.” He was a good friend of another Dominican saint of Peru, Rose of Lima.

Reflection

Racism is a sin almost nobody confesses. Like pollution, it is a “sin of the world” that is everybody’s responsibility but apparently nobody’s fault. One could hardly imagine a more fitting patron of Christian forgiveness—on the part of those discriminated against—and Christian justice—on the part of reformed racists—than Martin de Porres.

All Souls Day - Tuesday November 2nd

The practice of prayer for the dead, already mentioned in Sacred Scripture: “Therefore [Judas Maccabeus] made atonement for the dead, that they might be delivered from their sin.” From the beginning the Church has honored the memory of the dead and offered prayers in suffrage for them, above all the Eucharistic Sacrifice in so that, thus purified, they may attain the beatific vision of God. Please join us in our novena (9) of masses for our loved ones who have gone ahead of us. All Souls Novena envelopes are located at the exit doors of the church. Please return them before November 2nd. Thank you!
