Third Sunday of Advent (C)
December 12th, 2021
Zep 3:14-18a / Is 12: 2-3,4,5-6 / Phil 4: 4-7 / Lk 3:10-18

A school psychologist was giving an intelligence test to a group of eight-year-old children. He took a map of the world from a magazine, tore it up into pieces and handed it to a boy. After only a few minutes, the map was assembled. The teacher exclaimed: "Wonderful! How did you do it so fast and well?" "You see," replied the boy, "there was a big picture of a man on the other side of the map. If you get the man straightened out, the world will come put all right."

Perhaps, we are also like the people in our Gospel who asked St. John: "What shall we do? What are we to do to welcome Christ?" The prophet must have answered: "As the windings shall be made straight and rough ways smooth, your lives should be fixed rightly, and your responsibilities exercised faithfully." It is not the kind of job that makes us disciples of Christ, but the manner in which we do it. Our Lord is inspiring us to practice our professions and endeavors in accordance with the Gospel, that is, to use them to glorify God and serve our fellow humans; to dispense our duties with charity, honesty, and justice. Yes, if we can fix ourselves better, the world would be a better world to live in.

One of the sad things in our Christianity is not that it has failed, but that it has not been seriously lived and applied in our everyday lives. There is perceived dichotomy between faith and practice, between freedom and truth. For instance, there are many baptized Christians, but how many are actually and genuinely practicing their Christianity?

There are already many believers. But the challenge is not only to add more believers, but to have more Christian witnesses among the existing believers.

We may ask: "How? It is too difficult." I know for a fact that many people have tried and failed, and these are the people who are really trying to be good and holy. To them, I say: "Do not despair. Do not be discouraged." In our failures, we realize that we cannot still be good by our own efforts even if we try to; and how we can try to. This is the reason why the Messiah's coming is Good News to us. For it is only through him and in him that real goodness and holiness can be possible.

Parishioner Registration Forms

Registering as an Official Parishioner of Emmanuel is very important to us and you! Attending Mass on a regular basis does not technically mean you are registered. You must fill out a form, which will be entered into our records. Please pick up a form at the back of the church and return it to the parish office. You may also call the office to verify if you are already registered or not. Thank you!

Prayer Before Communion

O Lord, I believe and profess that you are truly Christ, Son of the living God, who came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the first. Accept me this day as a partaker of your mystical supper O Son of God. May the partaking of your holy mysteries, O Lord, be not for judgement or condemnation, but for the healing of body and soul. I also believe and profess that this, which I am about to receive, is truly your most precious Body & Blood, which, I pray, make me worthy to receive for the remission of all my sins and life everlasting. Amen.

Prayer For The Pavilion Project

Loving Father, creator of all things, we come to you asking your blessing on the construction of our pavilion. We pray for all involved in this project from donors to those who will bring it to completion. We dedicate this endeavor through the intercession of St. Joseph the worker. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen

Prayer for Vocations

Lord Jesus, as You once called the first disciples to make them fishers of men, let your sweet invitation continue to resound: Come follow Me!
Give young men and women the grace of responding quickly to your voice. Support our bishops, priests and consecrated people in their apostolic labor.
Grant perseverance to our seminarians and to all those who are carrying out the ideal of a life totally consecrated to your service.
Awaken in our community a missionary eagerness.
Lord, send your workers to your harvest and do not allow humanity to be lost for the lack of pastors, missionaries and people dedicated to the cause of the Gospel.
Mary, Mother of the Church, the model of every vocation, help us to say "yes" to the Lord who calls us to cooperate in the divine plan of salvation.
Amen

Advent Holy Hour Reflection

On Wednesday, December 1, the Knights of Blessed Mother Council sought to remind our parish family of the “forgotten” season of Advent by sponsoring an Advent Holy Hour of Reflection.

Over 100 parishioners turned out to hear Fr. Timothy Canaan lead an hour of reflection that included scripture, prayer, song, along with a benediction to the Holy Eucharist to prepare our homes and hearts for the coming of Jesus. To, as the prophet Isaiah announced, “Make straight in the wasteland a highway for our God!”

It was about putting Christ back in Christmas during this busy season.

And, as with all good Knights of Columbus events, cookies and coffee followed!

Thanks to all who were able to join us in preparation for this holy season!

Prayer To St. Michael

Saint Hildegard of Bingen's Sotry

Abbess, artist, author, composer, mystic, pharmacist, poet, preacher, theologian—where to begin in describing this remarkable woman?

Born into a noble family, she was instructed for ten years by the holy woman Blessed Jutta. When Hildegard was 18, she became a Benedictine nun at the Monastery of Saint Disibodenberg. Ordered by her confessor to write down the visions that she had received since the age of three, Hildegard took ten years to write her Scivias (Know the Ways). Pope Eugene III read it, and in 1147, encouraged her to continue writing. Her Book of the Merits of Life and Book of Divine Works followed. She wrote over 300 letters to people who sought her advice; she also composed short works on medicine and physiology, and sought advice from contemporaries such as Saint Bernard of Clairvaux.

Hildegard's visions caused her to see humans as "living sparks" of God's love, coming from God as daylight comes from the sun. Sin destroyed the original harmony of creation; Christ's redeeming death and resurrection opened up new possibilities. Virtuous living reduces the estrangement from God and others that sin causes.

Like all mystics, Hildegard saw the harmony of God's creation and the place of women and men in that. This unity was not apparent to many of her contemporaries.

Hildegard was no stranger to controversy. The monks near her original foundation protested vigorously when she moved her monastery to Bingen, overlooking the Rhine River. She confronted Emperor Frederick Barbarossa for supporting at least three antipopes. Hildegard challenged the Cathars, who rejected the Catholic Church claiming to follow a more pure Christianity.

Between 1152 and 1162, Hildegard often preached in the Rhineland. Her monastery was placed under interdict because she had permitted the burial of a young man who had been excommunicated. She insisted that he had been reconciled with the Church and had received its sacraments before dying. Hildegard protested bitterly when the local bishop forbade the celebration of or reception of the Eucharist at the Bingen monastery, a sanction that was lifted only a few months before her death.

In 2012, Hildegard was canonized and named a Doctor of the Church by Pope Benedict XVI. Her liturgical feast is celebrated on September 17.

Reflection

Pope Benedict spoke about Hildegard of Bingen during two of his general audiences in September 2010. He praised the humility with which she received God's gifts, and the obedience she gave Church authorities. He praised too the "rich theological content" of her mystical visions that sum up the history of salvation from creation to the end of time.

During his papacy, Pope Benedict XVI said, "Let us always invoke the Holy Spirit, so that he may inspire in the Church holy and courageous women like Saint Hildegard of Bingen who, developing the gifts they have received from God, make their own special and valuable contribution to the spiritual development of our communities and of the Church in our time."
